The New Approach to On Hold Marketing

Few products in the marketplace allow you to promote your business to captive and interested callers. OnQue does!

Marketing your business in real time. Select specific parts of your production to only play on a particular date and time, or more frequently to promote a special event. OnQue gives you the control and flexibility to tell your callers what you want them to hear, when you want them to hear it. Perfect for businesses with multiple sites or regular special offers.

New M2 On Hold productions are loaded automatically without any staff involvement. Ensure your production is playing when you need it to play, without the issues associated with using CD players, radios or tapes. Best of all you receive complete account management to assist with all aspects of creating your on hold production, ensuring the process smooth and hassle free.
